

Kazan (Russia)

Measures Taken by Kazan City Municipality in Response to COVID-19 (3 on 3)

Social

On the basis of the City Committee for Children and Youth a volunteer service called "We are together. Help for the elderly" was established. It currently has about 500 volunteers. Volunteers work out calls and help with the purchase of essential goods, payment for housing and utilities services, and many others. Volunteers work daily in two shifts.

In Kazan, about 50 city tournaments and championships have been postponed to a later date. Free online training sessions with professional fitness trainers have been organized. Classes are held in the format of live broadcasts on social networks.

Kazan residents can join the online project "Library Next Door". It was created to inform people about the availability of particular literature in the libraries as well as to organize interesting intellectual events online.

Type of initiative:

Prevention and security

Creating or improving the digital access to heritage (when physical access is impossible)
